Joseph has joined FHC on the back of attaining his degree in Accounting and Finance with Business Management to support the company in business and administration. He has worked in several fields and has experience of being a team leader, accounts administrator and business administrator. Joseph is an associate member of CMSUK.

Joseph has highly capable communication skills, having worked in hospitality during his university years, for around four years. He has attained highly attuned customer services skills and knows how to react under pressure. He has two languages in which he can converse, English natively and Russian to a high level.

He has a history of working hard, and has worked from 16 onwards alongside his education, as such having a hard work ethic. In his previous employments he has attained skills such as book-keeping, accounts receivable, bank reconciliations, managing invoices and more. He has extensive skills on Microsoft applications and Xero accounting software.

He has good knowledge of business through his degree, whereby he also formed his own start-up for the Young Enterprise competition, in which he and his team reached 2nd place nationally. He acted as Finance and Managing Director for this, where he learned considerable knowledge of supporting and running businesses.

Joseph is a very charitable person and has organised and supported several charity events. He was Entertainment Manager at 17 for a successful night of entertainment in his local town, raising over £2000 for the charity, supporting life in Uganda. He has also organised in a previous employment the three peaks challenge, in which he led a group of 8 employees including himself to a gruelling day of hiking up and down mountains for an autism support charity.

In his free time, he is an enthusiastic golfer and has a handicap of 8. He often plays in competitions and enjoys the competitive aspect of the sport. He is also very musical and can play guitar, piano, and clarinet, and has achieved up to Grade 6 so far in his official studies in clarinet and piano. He will play guitar in a band setting and has performed before in front of over 200 people in charity events.
